

SANTS

To be a saint means to be myself. Therefore the problem of sanctity and salvation is, in fact, the problem of finding out who I am and of discovering my true self. Thomas Merton

Christians are always tempted to worship the dogma rather than the true God to whom dogma gives witness.

Gregory Baum

It does not matter how slowly you go as long as you do not stop.

Confucius

Correction does much, but encouragement does more.

JW von Goethe

I long to accomplish a great and noble task, but it is my chief duty to accomplish small tasks as if they were great and noble.

Helen Keller

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feelings, not in figures on a dial. We should count time by heart throbs. He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

Aristotle

What does love look like? It has the hands to help others. It has the feet to hasten to the poor and needy. It has eyes to see misery and want. It has the ears to hear the sighs and sorrows of men. That is what love looks like.

Saint Augustine

I have a dogmatic certainty: God is in every person's life. God is in everyone's life. Even if the life of a person has been a disaster, even if it is destroyed by vices, drugs or anything else – God is in this person's life. You can – you must – try to seek God in every human life.

Pope Francis

Prayer is not a "spare wheel" that you pull out when in trouble,

But it is a "steering wheel" that directs the right path throughout.

Source unknown

Do your little bit of good where you are; it's those little bits of good put together that overwhelm the world.

Desmond Tutu
